Task 1

You are researching some holiday ideas. Read this page from a holiday brochure about an island holiday off the coast of Scotland.

Read the text below and answer the questions that follow.

Mull Wildlife Experience

The Isle of Mull
A chance to immerse yourself in the fabulous fauna and flora of the Isle of Mull and enjoy wonderful opportunities to explore this beautiful island. Why not join us? Mull is a sheer paradise for lovers of Scotland’s natural heritage. Mull is an island gem, with diverse wildlife thriving everywhere from dense woodland to the grassy slopes of Ben More. Its many miles of coastline boast fantastic sandy beaches, particularly at Calgary; whilst off-shore you can find one of Europe’s prime habitats for whales and dolphins.

Day One
Your holiday starts with a memorable ferry trip from Oban, on the West Coast of Scotland, to the island of Mull, your base for the next four days. Bring a form of ID and your travel voucher with you to the ferry terminal.

Day Two
Our ‘Wildlife Safari’ will not only introduce you to Mull’s most spectacular wildlife hotspots, but is a great way to explore some of the more scenic highlights of this beautiful island. Look out for golden eagles soaring high above, sea eagles hunting in coastal bays, otters, seals and perhaps even porpoises sunning themselves in seaweed-strewn bays. There is always plenty of wildlife to look out for whilst admiring the most glorious scenery in the world.

Day Three
Spotting a whale in the wild is still one of the greatest thrills in nature, and this holiday includes a full day whale-watch. Marine biologists on board will aid you in spotting minke whales and porpoises. These waters are also frequented by various species of dolphins and by the perfectly harmless basking shark. You will spend about six hours at sea, perhaps landing on a remote island or cove, with chances to view sleek seals at close quarters, while experiencing the peace and tranquillity of this remarkable island. Please note that the waters around the island can be rough at times.

Day Four
A leisure day to explore the coastline, beaches and mountains of the island.

Day Five
Return by ferry to the mainland taking special memories with you.

Closures bring national library network to brink of ‘absolute disaster’, reveals official inquiry

Library services are on the brink of disaster and can only be saved if they become more like coffee shops with wi-fi, sofas and hot drinks, a report will recommend on Thursday.

A combination of funding cuts and declining attendance threatens the viability of the library network unless urgent action is taken, according to the Independent Library

Report for England, which was commissioned by the Government.

William Sieghart, entrepreneur, publisher and author of the report, said: “We’re at a critical moment for the libraries and if we’re not careful we could lose so many. A lot of people, including myself, think it would be an absolute disaster.”

His report, which has been hailed as the last chance to halt a decline in which 324 libraries have closed since 2011, recommends a complete “reinvigoration of the library network” for the 21st century, with every library in the country fitted with wi-fi to attract people who would otherwise spend time in cafés. A drive to make libraries truly digital could also lead to the creation of a single national library card and catalogue, allowing readers to withdraw books across the country.

The report also recommends the establishment of a library task force, led by councils but supported by groups including the BBC, Arts Council England and the British Library, to improve national standards.

The library campaigner Desmond Clarke, a former librarian, has endorsed the report, saying: “Now, we have a blueprint for a national public library service.” He welcomed the creation of the library task force, saying it would “fill the leadership void and allow libraries to rediscover their purpose”. He added: “This report must not be kicked into the long grass; it is almost the last chance to rebuild a public library service with real value.”

Task 4

Read the forum below and answer the questions that follow.

Should plastic bags be banned from grocery stores?

Plastic bags are a danger!
I despair with people’s throwaway approach to life! Plastic bags are just a waste. Future generations will have to pay for the actions we take today. Do you want that for your grandchildren? What gets me hot under the collar is plastic bags can harm animals too as they get tangled up or ingest them. I have seen many plastic bags littering the beaches where I live then they get washed out to sea which can be fatal for sea life. I find this appalling! Please everybody, buy canvas bags, they are the best option and will carry your shopping for years!

Piotr, Brighton

Plastic bags forever!
What would dog owners do without free plastic bags to pick up their pet’s waste? You can use them on your dog walks, in kitchen bins and for putting wet stuff in when it’s pouring down. Plastic bags are very useful things!

Shania, London

Plastic bags get a bad press!
Today’s plastic grocery bags are produced from a by-product (ethane) of natural gas refining. If we didn’t use the ethane for making plastic bags it would simply be burned, further adding to global carbon dioxide emissions. If we didn’t remove the ethane from the natural gas it wouldn’t be safe to transport and use. Plastic bags are much more economical to produce and transport to their final destination, while having a carrying capacity of hundreds of times their weight. Plastic grocery bags are also very easy to recycle at participating stores, with many of the drop off bins located at the entrance of the store. So they’re not all bad!

Simon, Swansea

Plastic bags forever?
Why do people insist on using plastic bags? It drives me crazy! They don’t contribute to global warming but they do wreck the environment. Millions of plastic bags end up in landfill sites. Because plastic bags are made of high density polyethylene, or HDPE, it takes over 100 billion years for them to break down. So they stay there for a very long time indeed. I prefer using cloth bags more why don’t you follow suit?
