General marking guidance

- All candidates must receive the same treatment. Markers must mark the last candidate in exactly the same way as they mark the first.
- Markers should apply the mark schemes positively. Candidates must be rewarded for what they have shown they can do.
- Markers should mark according to the mark scheme.
- Markers should always award full marks if these are deserved
- If a response is not worthy of credit it should be awarded 0.
- Where markers are in doubt regarding the application of the mark scheme to a candidate's response, they should consult the Chief Examiner before awarding a mark.
- Crossed out work should be marked unless the candidate has replaced it with an alternative response.
- For tasks 2 and 3 markers should clearly indicate the mark awarded for each criterion in the margin using the following abbreviations: PI, C, RoE, P, G, Sp, R&F. They may make annotations in the margins on the paper.
- For tasks 2 and 3 there is a suggested word count. Candidates will not be penalised for responses that are longer or shorter than the suggested number of words. It is the quality not the quantity of work that affects the assessment outcome. Assessors must judge whether candidates have met the relevant assessment criteria.
- Repeat errors when marking should only count as one error (for example where a candidate makes the same spelling mistake on more than one occasion).

General guidance on using criterion based mark schemes

 Markers should consider the answer as a whole and then decide which descriptors most closely match the response. The descriptors for each criterion indicate the different features that should be present in the candidate's response. When determining the mark for the criterion markers should look at the overall quality of the answer and at how securely the candidate has evidenced the descriptor for a particular mark. Where the response has characteristics of two different bands, they should use a best fit approach.
